Tours

Castle Cornet & Museums Tour

This 800-year-old castle standing at the mouth of the harbour and much bigger than it first appears. Explore five museums and four period gardens and feel free to enjoy the daily attractions which include a guided tour at 10.30am and the firing of the noon-day gun by scarlet clad gunners.

Just a short walk from the town centre, the Castle not only offers a fascinating insight into hundreds of years of island history - but spectacular panoramic views back towards St Peter Port and out across our sister islands.

The story of the castle and other aspects of Guernsey's past can be found in the five museums housed within the Castle. These comprise of The Story of Castle Cornet, 201 Squadron (RAF) Museum, Maritime Museum, Royal Guernsey Light Infantry Museum and Royal Guernsey Militia Museum.

Get the insider's guide to getting those perfect holiday shots with Guernsey photo tours. These tours, with local photographer Mark Renouf, take in all the best beauty spots our island has to offer. Choose from a tour around St Martins, including the south coast bays and cliff paths, a stroll around Rocquaine including the Fairy Ring, a local heritage site steeped in folklore; take in the south coast beaches or head to our capital St Peter Port for a tour at dusk.

These walks take in the very best views and are designed to help you create the holiday photos you have always wanted to take home and show your friends and family. You don't have to be an expert, just a keen photographer.

Tailor made private escorted tours are available.

German Military Underground Hospital

The largest construction in the Channel Islands at 7,000 square metres, the underground hospital was hewn out of solid rock.

Construction began in the winter of 1940 and was built underground so as not to be seen by overhead planes given the site was also used as an ammunition store. The hospital is truly an eerie insight into life on the island at the time.

German Naval Signals HQ

The headquarters of the German Naval Commander Channel Islands was established in the nearby La Collinette Hotel, and the Signal HQ was responsible for all radio traffic to and from Germany and the other Islands. Visit the last operational Signals HQ that was running up until 9 May 1945, using the Enigma code machines that were being decoded by the staff at Bletchley Park.

Underground Military Museum

This museum covers Guernsey's military history, including World War One and the German Occupation of the island from 1940 to 1945 during World War Two, as well as the island's own militia. Set in a complex of air-conditioned tunnels that were built by German forces as a fuel storage facility for their U-Boats, the museum is near La Vallette bathing pools and features various military and occupation memorabilia. For those interested in the German occupation of Guernsey, La Vallette Underground Military Museum offers a wide variety of exhibitions, displays and information on this time.

Island Tour

Leaving St Peter Port, the tour passes by the iconic fortification Castle Cornet, before heading through the picturesque St Martin's Village, and then heads towards the unmissable pottery-decorated Little Chapel at Les Vauxbelets, and the stunning views on offer from the most south-westerly point, on the cliff top at Pleinmont. The small coach takes you along the tight countryside lanes the others can't reach.

Dropping down to sea level, the tour stops at the Guernsey Pearl Centre, before heading up the West Coast of the island and inland. The coach will then head north towards St Sampson's and 'The Bridge'. The tour then heads inland to the Guernsey Freesia Centre, from here you head along the east coast overlooking Herm Island and Sark as the tour heads back into the heart of St Peter Port.

Activities

Island of Sark – Adventures Sark

Coasteering is a relatively new activity that is gaining rapidly in popularity. It couldn't be more simple. Coastal exploration at sea level, turning waves and rocks into playthings, an exhilarating mixture of swimming, scrambling, jumping and exploring caves, gullies and caverns.

On selected days throughout the year Adventure Sark offer you the chance to experience one of the most unique coasteering environments in the world. A day coasteering in Sark could see you exploring some of the most awesome caves and cavern Systems in the Channel Islands such as the Victor Hugo, Cathedral Cave, Boutique caves and the Derrible Head Caverns as well as the world famous Gouliot Caves.

Bumblebee Boat Cruises

Based in Guernsey, Bumblebee is the perfect way to explore the Bailiwick's coastline up close.

Choose from a Guernsey Coastal Cruise, Seal Safari, Puffin Patrol or World War II Cruise, all with informed commentaries from their friendly crew. Bumblebee also offer a regular ferry service to and from Alderney to allow a long day exploring Guernsey's pretty sister isle.

There is plenty of space for everyone to sit down or take cover in the fully-enclosed comfortable cabin. Bumblebee are happy to take you anywhere you like within reason, comfort, and safety.

Bumblebee also available for private and corporate charter.

Outdoor Guernsey

Stride 'n' Ride - St Peter Port Cycling Tour

This tour is a great way to see and learn a bit more of the island's capital parish of St Peter Port. You will find out about some of the island's historical figures, and experience some iconic landmarks and historical places of interest. The tour visits Cambridge Park, Victoria Tower, Victor Hugo's house, the historic market, Town Church and Fort George. Due to volume of traffic in the town area, this tour is only available on Sundays and Public Holidays.
